What is the Role of a Media Hub Director / Content Manager?

Since our inception, The Glory Project has been working to get the gospel to the unreached in Asia by any available means. A partnership started with School for the Nations to create innovative resources in the use of media. The HOPE led us into a model that allows us to reimagine what that looks like each time we engage with a new cultural tradition. One of our primary tools has thus been defined, and we are now asking the strategic question, “How can we ensure The HOPE is being produced in various languages and used in a way to get the gospel to the unreached?”

The Media Hub Director / Content Manager will serve a vital role in helping us better reach unreached peoples in Asia with The HOPE. You will play a pivotal role in allowing our internal team to remain lean, while expanding the reach of our work globally. Our goal is to significantly scale up our work in resourcing the hubs in Asia so we can find creative ways to express the gospel.

The Ideal Candidate for “The Media Hub Director / Content Manager” will have experience in building ministry partnerships and a strong grasp of the mission of The Glory Project and School to the Nations as well as the vision for The HOPE’s ongoing impact. Most important, the Media Hub Director / Content Manager will have a passion for the Great Commission and seeing the gospel go forth to every tongue, tribe, and nation, particularly those that are currently unreached. The Media Hub Director / Content Manager will maximize the worldwide ministry potential and dissemination of The HOPE by building and nurturing strategic ministry partnerships across the world and post digital content online to share the vision of The Glory Project.

The HOPE is not primarily a product, but rather a core resource; a tool designed to be adapted so that it might help fulfill mission strategies worldwide. As such, the true viability and potential of The HOPE is best understood in terms of ministry partnerships. The ideal candidate is transparent and accountable to other team members, as well as the board and leadership of The Glory Project. He or she is a strategic thinker who can work closely with the President of The Glory Project to develop and implement plans to sustain and build ministry partnerships and craft stories to use across digital media to share the mission of the Glory Project with the world.
